Design/Build Construction

Design/Build... a construction delivery method in which one entity is the single source for all design and construction services.

Design/Build Advantages

• Owners, designers, engineers, and construction personnel are involved throughout the project to optimize cost, schedules and quality.

• Delays and costs are not accumulated due to coordination and planning between owner, designer, contractor and subcontractors.

• Early project conceptualization results in time and cost savings.

• Construction activities begin prior to the completion of the entire design and construction drawings, allowing for fast track scheduling to achieve earlier occupancy.

• Constant communication between the designer and the builder results in an efficient and quality design.

• Construction costs are estimated continuously during the project.

• The ability to evaluate alternative designs, material, and methods results in more efficiency and accuracy.

• Value engineering and constructability are continuously scrutinized.
